VICTORS GET SPOILS

Award time comes at the end of each and every hockey season, and the 1982-83 campaign was no exception. Center Mark Pavelich (above) and defenseman Tom Laidlaw (below) carted off some of the hardware last season. Pavelich was presented with the Frank Boucher Trophy by Debbie Friedman, president of the Rangers Fan Club. The Boucher trophy is awarded to "the most popular Ranger on and off the ice." Laidlaw was honored by the West Side Association of Commerce and received the association's Players' Player Award, as voted by the Rangers themselves. That award was presented by Leon Casper, vice chairman of the association.

RANGERS FOR CHARITY

The official charity of the Rangers and their families, plus that of the New York Rangers Alumni Association, is the New York State Federation for the Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect. The charity benefited twice last season. Above, the proceeds from the annual New York Rangers Fashion Show were turned over by team captain Barry Beck and Mrs. Barbro Nilsson to James Cameron of the charity. Below, Wendy Ftorek and Reijo Ruotsalainen of the Rangers presented a check to Cameron. Assisting in that particular ceremony were the great Gordie Howe and (far left) Richard Boudria, sales manager of Emery Worldwide, sponsors of the Emery Edge Award, presented to the "plus-minus" leader of each team in the National Hockey League. Ruotsalainen was the Rangers' "plus-minus" leader last season.

A Brief History Of The New York Rangers

The Rangers' Official Emblem

By JOHN HALLIGAN

One of the proudest and most historic franchises in the National Hockey League. That's the New York Rangers, who are embarking on their 58th season of National Hockey League play in 1983-84.

In the last few seasons, the Rangers have been able to recapture much of the glamour and glitter that marked their early years, a trend which clearly will continue this season.

Back in the 1920s and 1930s, the Rangers were known as "the classiest team in hockey," and the description was certainly an accurate one. In fact, few sporting teams have come into existence with such a wave of success.

Under the astute managership and coaching of Lester Patrick, hockey's famed "Silver Fox," the Rangers were nearly unbeatable in those early years.

Actually, the birth of the Rangers was something of a team effort that involved Patrick, Madison Square Garden fight promoter Tex Rickard and Conn Smythe, then a successful hockey man in Toronto.

Rickard had become fascinated with hockey, and was convinced the game would be enthusiastically supported in the Garden, the world's premier sports arena that had opened its doors just a year earlier.

The team was jocularly called "Tex's Rangers," and the latter part of the name stuck.

Soon after the puck got rolling in New York, Smythe resigned, and was quickly replaced by Patrick, the widely known hockey promoter and innovator who came to New York from the defunct Pacific Coast Hockey Association.

Patrick, whose grandson, Craig Patrick, is general manager for the current Rangers, worked his magic from the very start. The Rangers were an instant smash, both on the ice and at the box office, as New Yorkers immediately took to hockey. Ranger games were the place to be in those days, and the club attracted a formal, "dinner-jacket" crowd to the games, which began at 8:45 P.M. The fans were headed by no less a personage than the Mayor of New York himself, the Honorable Jimmy Walker.

In their first 16 seasons, the Rangers missed the playoffs only once, and only twice did they fall lower than third place. New York won three regular-season championships in that span, finished second five times and third on six other occasions. They also won three Stanley Cups.

In short, the Rangers built an empire, and New Yorkers loved every minute of it.

The Original Rangers were led by the Cook brothers, Bill and Bun, and Frank Boucher, who won the Lady Byng Trophy so many times the league finally gave it to him permanently. Among the "originals", Bill Cook, Boucher, and colorful defenseman Ching Johnson all made it to the Hockey Hall of Fame.

As the "originals" started to fade out, they were replaced by another stellar group of Ranger stars. Boucher was now coaching the club, while Lester Patrick concentrated on the managerial chores.

Once again, New Yorkers had a brother combination to cheer for. This time it was Neil and Mac Colville, and Alex Shibicky was their linemate. High-scoring Bryan Hextall, fiery Phil Watson, the Patrick brothers, Lynn and Muzz, goalie Dave Kerr, and defensemen Babe Pratt and Art Coulter were all stalwarts of that era.

World War II broke up the gang of Ranger All-Stars, but despite the fall in the team's fortunes after the war, there were still many individual stars on Broadway. Chuck Rayner, Buddy O'Connor, Edgar Laprade, Hy Buller, and Bones Raleigh were standouts in the late Forties and early Fifties.

The arrival of Andy Bathgate in New York signalled another era in Ranger history. Bathgate, twice a first team All-Star, and then the holder of most Ranger scoring records, was the Rangers' superstar for almost a decade. Little Camille Henry, goalie Gump Worsley, Harry Howell, and Dean Prentice were other fans' favorites.

Some 10 years later, another star right wing heralded the Rangers' newest era. Rod Gilbert eventually eclipsed all of Bathgate's scoring records with the club, and played a decade and a half of stellar hockey in New York.

Other stars of that era included Gilbert's linemates, Jean Ratelle and Vic Hadfield, goalie Ed Giacomin, defenseman Brad Park, and center Walt Tkaczuk.

The arrival of Craig Patrick in 1980, and the subsequent signing of Herb Brooks as coach, marks the Rangers' latest era, one that hopefully will mirror the successes of earlier days.

A return to tradition, plus the addition of new stars such as Anders Hedberg, Barry Beck, Mike Rogers, Ron Greschner, Mark Pavelich, and the Maloney brothers, Dave and Don, already have the Ranger fans thinking of another Stanley Cup.

And who could blame them?

UNBALANCED SCHEDULE:

Each of the 21 teams will play an 80-game schedule with those teams in the Smythe, Norris and Adams Divisions having eight games (four home, four away) against each of their Divisional opponents, plus three games against each of the remaining 16 teams in the League. In the case of the three games against the remaining clubs, teams will play two home, one away or vice-versa, alternating the extra home game each year.

The six clubs in the Patrick Division—New Jersey, New York Islanders, New York Rangers, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Washington—will play each other seven times with three games against each of the remaining 15 teams. The home-ice differential will be alternated each season.

STANLEY CUP PLAYOFFS:

At the conclusion of the regular schedule, the top four finishers in each of the divisions will qualify for the Stanley Cup Playoffs.

The opening round features divisional playoffs that will have the first place club oppose the fourth-place team and second versus third in the best-of-five series. The winners of each series will advance to a best-of-seven Divisional Final Series with the team gaining higher standing during the regular-season holding home-ice advantage.

The four divisional winners will meet in a best-of-seven Conference Championship. The Smythe Division victor will face the Norris Division champion in the Campbell Conference championship, while the Patrick Division victor will oppose the Adams Division winner for the Prince of Wales Conference title. The Conference winners will meet in a best-of-seven final series for the Stanley Cup.

Home ice advantage in the semi-final and final rounds will go to the team representing the division/conference with the better record against the other division/conference. In addition, the final round will now be played on a 2-3-2 basis, rather than the 2-2-1-1-1 format that was previously utilized.
